DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

VOL. IV. GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1909. No. 43

ACTIVITY IN LOCAL BUILDING

Still Continue Unabated and New Homes Starting Almost Daily

Although a week or more of stormy weather interfered with all building operations generally, the fine days that we have had this week have witnessed a brisk demand at the lumber yards and the placing of many new orders for building material.

The Glendale Building and Improvement company is building a fine residence on Glendale avenue, corner of Park, Tropico. Its dimensions will be about 60x40. It will contain a large living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms, a hallway and bath, with all the requisite cupboards, closets and conveniences necessary in a first-class residence.

Contractor G. B. Franklin has the contract for a $1700 residence in Tropico. He is finishing a residence on Vine street near Columbus, for Mr. H. W. Faacks, costing about $1500. Mr. Franklin has built about a dozen houses in this section in the last few months.

At Fifth and Glendale avenue, Mr. Martin has begun the erection of a house which will cost about $1500. J. J. Daly is building near Casa Verdugo, a residence to cost about $1200.

Mr. C. G. Pyle of Maple avenue near Brand boulevard is building a bungalow to cost about $1900.

The Pioneer Investment and Trust company is building the Mission Inn, corner of Central avenue and Burchett street, a small building for hotel purposes, in Mission style to cost $2000.

Chas. H. Smith has contracted with P. J. Leaver to build a one-story six-room frame house on Glendale Boulevard tract, to cost $1425.

Mr. Thomas Addison is just finishing a five-room bungalow at Second and Verdugo Road for Mr. Mallett, costing about $1700. The same contractor has recently completed the fine residence of Mr. F. H. Vesper on Lomita avenue near Glendale and that of Mr. Bright on Mary street between First and Second.

Permits were issued from the building inspector's office the past week to C. W. Bachman for a 9-room 2-story house on Ninth street near Adams, costing $2000.

C. G. Pyle for a 6-room one-story cottage on Chestnut near Brand boulevard, costing $1900.

John Goetz is building a small barn on Brand boulevard near Ninth street which he will use as a residence while he is building his residence for which plans are out now.

R. A. Blackburn is remodeling his residence on Second and Adams.

Mr. Fred Evans is building a small cottage on Fifth street east of Verdugo Road. He has plans for a new residence to cost about $2500.

WOOD'S HOTEL—MUCH NEEDED ADDITIONS MADE.

Messrs. Brewster and Haviland of Wood's Hotel are rejoicing at the addition recently made to the number of rooms for the accommodation of guests in their establishment. On the upper floor of the adjacent building ten rooms have been furnished and fitted up for the comfort of guests, the four facing on Brand Boulevard being particularly well situated as regards light and a pleasant outlook. All of the rooms are well furnished with the "comforts of home," everything being new and clean. This addition now gives this establishment twenty-four rooms and it will not henceforth, for the present at least, be necessary to turn guests away as has frequently been done in times past.

GLENDALE-EAGLE ROCK RAILROAD.

The rains of the past ten days have interfered seriously with the construction of this road, but now that the weather is settled, it is progressing rapidly. The poles on the Glendale end are set and the rails and ties are being rapidly distributed. At the Eagle Rock end a few rails have been laid. It now looks as if all material would be distributed and ties and rails ready to be placed by the end of the present week, all along the route, and the poles be in position. The work of laying the rails should be completed next week and no doubt will be, should the weather be favorable. It is quite possible that a car will run over the line some time during the coming week.

ENTERTAINED.

At the home of Mrs. E. Taylor on Saturday evening, Feb. 13, the Philathea class of the Baptist church entertained the Baraca class with a Valentine party. The evening was spent in games appropriate to the occasion. At a late hour refreshments were served. Every one declared a most delightful evening.

Report of city engineer that the cost of proposed electric light plant will be $60,000, was received and filed. Application was received from E. D. Reynolds to do street work by private contract on Doran and Louise streets. Granted. In regard to tax collections report on delinquent tax rules referred to committee of the whole at last meeting; said committee recommended that the tax collector be credited in the sum of $4.36 on account of taxes levied by mistake on property sold for delinquent taxes, Feb. 10th, 1908. Recommendation adopted. A resolution ordering certain work done on Seventh street was read and adopted. Same action in regard to work on Lomita avenue. City attorney reported that in regard to delinquent taxes on certain lots in block 61, now the property of the Union High school, the trustees of said district should pay the same, they having recourse against the parties selling the property. In the matter of street assessments against lots sold to the city for delinquent taxes, the city attorney advised that the city cannot pay the same. Trustee Blackburn offered a resolution to the effect that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition by the city of Glendale of an electric lighting plant (resolution appears elsewhere) and same was adopted. Messrs. Blackburn, Grant, Anderson and Watson voting for it, Mr. Cole not voting. The president was authorized to appoint a committee of three citizens to designate varieties of trees for street planting. He named the following: George E. Byram, A. F. Slem and Frederick Dill.

The city attorney was instructed to draft a resolution naming that portion of lot C of Sinclair and Scheiholz tract recently dedicated to the city, Sinclair avenue.

When board adjourned it was to meet on Saturday, Feb. 20, at 2 p. m.

MRS. N. F. REYNOLDS.

It was a beautiful earthly life that went out last Friday morning to begin the heavenly life. Diantha Dimmick was born April 6, 1832, in Uniondale, Susquehanna county, Pa. She was a public school teacher for some years. Was married January 1, 1857, to Newell F. Reynolds.

While Mr. Reynolds was in a hospital at Charleston, S. C., during the civil war, Mrs. Reynolds went there and nursed him back to health, remaining for a time as a teacher.

In 1893 they came from Chillicothe, Mo., to California, and soon after to Glendale, where they have made their home ever since. Mrs. Reynolds never had robust health and in her later years it was frail. Of a retiring disposition many did not become acquainted with her. Those who did know her valued her highly for her excellent qualities. As a friend she was faithful and true. As a Christian and church member, an example to others. For fifty years she had been a member of the Presbyterian church. She was laid to rest last Monday in Rosedale cemetery beside her dearly loved brother, Rev. F. M. Dimmick, who had desired that she and her husband should lie by him. Mr. Dimmick built the original Grand View Presbyterian church in Los Angeles, and was for some years its pastor.

NEW ARRIVAL.

A lusty girl baby arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Fourth street, Thursday morning. All the members of the family are doing well and Mrs. E. B. Newcomb is rejoicing over the arrival of another great-grand-child.

Alfonso Nutbrown and son, J. R. Nutbrown of Portland, old friends and neighbors of J. P. Clement, back in Nebraska some thirty years ago, are paying Glendale a brief visit and are greatly pleased with the valley.

At the election of officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Country Club, last Monday, the following were chosen:

President—Mrs. C. E. Shattuck.
Vice President—Mrs. A. W. Collins.
Treasurer—Mrs. Menzo Williams.
Secretary—Mrs. J. C. Sherer.

A cob-web social, whatever that may be, is to be held at the Episcopal Guild hall, on Third street, tonight by the ladies of St. Mark's Guild. It costs nothing to get in and it is reported that it will be worth the money to see soap bubbles dished up by two of our prominent society youth who will retail them at so much per pound, payable in the coin of the realm.

Mr. Wm. Mitchell arrived at his Lomita Park home on Monday last, coming through direct from New York. Mr. Mitchell has been absent from Glendale about two years and expresses amazement at the evidences of our growth during that ime. He expects to return to New York in a week or two, although finding the attractions of Glendale nearly irresistable.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal had a good old-fashioned house-warming on Saturday evening, when guests were bidden en masse for the first time to their pretty new home on Louise street. Whist was the vehicle for the evening's amusement and nine tables were employed. A most delightful luncheon completed the enjoyable evening. Guests numbered Glendale, Tropico and Los Angeels friends.

Dr. L. W. Sinclair, whose family have resided in Glendale for the past four years, but who himself, has been absent in Arizona and elsewhere during the most of that time, has opened a dentist's office on the upper floor of the Cole and Dick block. Dr. Sinclair is a graduate of the Chicago Dental College and of the University of Southern California and has also had seven or eight years' practiec in his profession.

Mrs. J. C. Thomas spent portions of Wednesday and Thursday last with her sister, Miss R. M. Sherer, of Fourth and Adams. Mrs. John McBee, daughter of Mrs. Thomas, who will be remembered by some of our readers as Miss Margaret Thomas, a pupil, and later a teacher in Glendale schools, who returned from the Philippines a year ago and has been stopping with her parents at Highland Park, left last week for North Carolina, where Mr. McBee has property.

The Misses Anabelle and Stella Eudmiller, of 611 West Sixth street, Saturday evening entertained the Glendale Dramatic Club at a Valentine party. Festoons of smilax and ferns from which tiny hearts were suspended, were combined with quantities of red carnations in the decorations. Games, music and dancing were enjoyed. The table was beautifully decorated and covers were laid for sixteen. Mr. Norman Evans furnished the music.

COLONIAL TEA AT GLENDALE COUNTRY CLUB.

The undoubted success of the present gay social whirl was the Colonial tea and heart party given as a Monday affair at the Country Club rooms this week. Colonial days were recalled in costume, entertainment, and refreshment. The tables were covered with dainty lace spreads and quaint silver tea services were used. Flowers and flags were employed in decoration, of which colonial days were the key-note. Of surpassing interest was the surprise given the guests in the introduction of Miss Helen Vickery, whose fame as a whistling soloist extends from coast to coast. Miss Vickery is a composer, and while whistling her compositions the knowledge came to her that she possessed the wonderful talent of imitating the birds, and the beautiful music of nature. For two years she has whistled across the continent, as a member of the Santa Fe Lyric Quartette, and each summer for the great Chautauqua meetings. Her welcome at the Country Club was an ovation. As part of the program, a lively game of hearts was played, and awards fell to Mrs. Robins and to Mrs. Vogle, as they held the best score. For the most original old-time costume, Mrs. Daniel Campbell won a handsome brass bowl; for the handsomest colonial head-dress, violet costume, Mrs. Charles Temple drew an exquisite box of violet stationery, and for the most quaint appearance, little Dorothy Price Brown won a dainty prize. Elegant and appropriate colonial costumes were worn by Mrs. Chas. E. Shattuck, flowered satin, ch train, pompadour and curls; Mrs. J. N. Metcalf, white embroidery over pink silk, plume and pearls in pompadour, Mrs. Menzo Williams, white colonial head-dress, pale gray silk crepe; Mrs. L. C. Brand, green velvet; Mrs. L. C. Rice, colonial coiffure, silk costume; Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, green silk, scarlet poppies, as Eugene Field's "Poppy-lady"; Mrs. Ezra Parker, cream-white "Summer of 1909"; Senora Yorba Sowl, black silk and lace mantilla, "California del sur"; Mrs. H. Howe, lavender with chiffon and violets; Mrs. Bartlett, pale yellow with wild mustard garniture; Mrs. E. V. Parker, blue crepon, pearls; Mrs. J. C. Sherer, cream voille; Mrs. Richardson, purple and heliotrope satin; Mrs. Collins, white with green; Mrs. R. Chase, white crepon, plumes; Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, old blue with black, rose garniture. Space forbids mention of many more, all in dainty array. Several of the ladies were strangers, visitors and house-guests of members.

BUBBLES AND COB-WEBS.

Beautiful rainbow bubbles and the intricate maze of many cobwebs is what you are invited to enjoy at the Parish house on Saturday evening. The new rectory and hall bids fair to outrival the fine new I. O. O. F. hall and the handsome Country Club rooms in a social way, for, while they will close for the summer season, like Tennyson's brook, the Parish hall will go on and on. There is to be a Bubble booth, a bon bon booth, a hocus-pocus booth and a tea and coffee department all in charge of prominent workers in St. Mark's Guild and Auxiliary.

LINCOLN AND OUR COUNTRY.

As was eminently fitting, Lincoln's birthday was beautifully and impressively observed at our schools. The rain interfered with the campus programs, but the room work on Friday was something that will long be remembered by the pupils who paid tribute so loyally to the beloved patriot.

Previous to the day, Mrs. Ryan, principal, had read and explained to the children many phases of the great emancipator's character, illuminating anecdotes of his life, and the high opinions of others.

The speech at Getysburg received especial attention. It was thoroughly impressed upon the pupils that this was no gala day and the faculty bent every energy to emphasize the beauty and patriotism of such an observance for Lincoln and our country.

ELECTRIC RAILROAD TO BURBANK.

Meeting Mr. J. C. Ostergard the other day we learned that the project for the electric railroad along the foothills to Burbank from the present terminal at Casa Verdugo, is being vigorously pushed by Mr. Ostergard and others with a fair prospect of success. It will be remembered that Mr. L. C. Brand made the offer to build the road provided the rights of way and a bonus of $30,000 should be furnished. Mr. Ostergard believes it necessary that this important matter be pushed to completion at the present time as a tract of land in the neighborhood of Casa Verdugo through which the road must run and the right of way through which can now be obtained, will in the event of failure to clinch the matter soon, be subdivided and sold, adding to the difficulties of the situation, if not making the success of the project hopeless.

There is no doubt but that this fine residence section of our valley needs just the one more feature to make it ideal to the home seeker, and failure to secure this connection with the rest of the world will have a tendency at least to a depreciation in values. As an enterprise which if pushed to a successful conclusion will add greatly to our population and tend to the development of our section as well as that about Burbank, we wish success to Mr. Ostergard and others who are energetically pushing it along.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS LOCATION.

The Valley Supply company has moved into its new quarters in the just completed Cole and Dick block. They have all the southern end of the block adjacent to the track of the Pacific Electric which affords excellent facilities for the handling of their cars. They retain the old warehouse in the rear, which will be used for the storage of grain and coal. The new store has a concrete floor and is in other respects excellently adapted to the uses to which it will be put. Messrs. Robbins and McDonald are young men who have been in our community only a few months, but have built up a good business and acquired a reputation for square dealing.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pickus of Stocker street, Feb. 12th, a fine boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cornelius Anderssen, Cedar street, a little girl.

To Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Barton, Hawthorne street, Feb. 7th, a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Boyd, Lomita Park, a son.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. B. Fischer was hostess for members of Chapter U, P. E. O., at her home on Olive avenue. Plans had been made to entertain Chapter L of Glendale at this meeting, but owing to the rainy weather, the visiting chapter was not able to be present. Delicious refreshments and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Saturday afternoon a number of young ladies of the I. O. G. T. lodge gathered at the home of Mrs. Swain and made garments for the orphans in the I. O. G. T. home for orphans at Vallejo, Cal. The ladies present were Misses Perry, Cartwright, Kahl, Luttge, Clarke, Shelton, Ludlow, Pomeroy, Riddell, Butterfield and Kalberlagh of Los Angeles.

PRETTY LINEN SHOWER.

Miss Anna McIntyre was the honored guest at a prettily planned linen shower, given for her on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Claude Pulliam, Kenwood street. The rooms were aflutter with tiny red hearts, festoons and garlands of them, intertwined with live oak and smilax, were most effective. Baskets a la Marie Antoinette were overflowing with sweet spring blossoms, and refreshments served were of the daintiest. In one archway hung a beribboned and garlanded basket, under which the prospective bride, blind-folded, was led, when the shower descended upon her. The gifts were numerous, dainty and practical, just the kind to add joy to the heart of a bride. Those giving the party were the faculty of the Fourth Street School and the Sixth Street School. During the coming summer Miss McIntyre will become the bride of Mr. Charles W. Crawford of New Brunswick, Canada, where the couple will reside.

BASKET BALL—GLENDALE VS. FULLERTON.

The game between the Glendale High School team and the Fullerton team came off on the home grounds last Saturday, and was an interesting, in fact rather exciting affair. The visitors, although the champions of Orange county, were entirely outclassed by our home team, and the score was 33 to 16 in Glendale's favor. There were several instances of pretty rough work and two or three of the players emerged somewhat the worse for wear.

GLENDALE, CAL., FEBRUARY 20, 1909

Secretary Root says: "In the long run to secure good government we must come down to the faithful performance of their duty by the people at the polls."

Oregon, Wisconsin and Illinois are all having their troubles over the Direct Primary. In Wisconsin, La Follette is complaining that his opponents won out by the lavish use of money; one of the evils that the Direct Primary was to eliminate!

Have we forgotten Sicily? In the busy hours of our on rushing lives can we stop for a moment to remember that only six weeks ago there were over 100,000 people in Messina, and nothing is left of them now but a remembrance; while Messina itself has vanished from the earth?

In conformity with the instructions of the city trustees, Chairman Watson has appointed a committee to make a selection of trees to be planted on those streets where a selection has not already been made. The personnel of this committee is such as to give assurance that the work will be well done. It consists of Messrs. Geo. E. Byram, A. F. Slem and Frederick Dill. Mr. Byram is well known as a lover of trees and possesses a good amateur's knowledge of the subject. Mr. Slem is the gentleman who has done such excellent work on the grounds of the Glendale sanitarium, while Mr. Dill is an experienced landscape gardner. The selection of the committee is a most happy one.

Washington's birthday will be celebrated on the 22d as it has been for years past and will be for years to come, as long as the people of the nation which he did so much to found upon a solid basis, are capable of appreciating the virtues of private life and inestimable public service, both of which in his life insure for him a lasting fame. In celebrating the anniversaries of the birth of the two foremost Americans, it must be noted that they possessed in common certain traits of character which account for the success of their efforts in behalf of their country. The two most noticeable of these are a belief in a Supreme Ruler of the Universe and a clear and unhesitating desire to serve their country at any cost to themselves. The student of history and of human nature cannot well avoid the conclusion that without these attributes no man who is born of woman can hope to write himself down on the pages of history as being truly great.

THE QUALITY OF JUSTICE.

That great interpreter of the human heart who told us that "The quality of mercy is not strained," might well have coupled it with that other rarer quality of justice. But justice can scarcely be considered a human quality; for even more than mercy, "it is an attribute of God himself." The measure of justice meted out by human kind must be but a mere suggestion of the perfect act of the Omnipotent in dealing with the creatures of his making. Justice must rest upon knowledge and human justice founded upon imperfect knowledge can only be a poor imitation at best. Human justice is therefore only comparative, but of all the divine attributes that are sprinkled through our human nature, it is the one that we should most sedulously cultivate and aspire to. Last week the world celebrated the one hundredth birthday anniversary of the birth of a man who was one of the foremost of the few great men of his or any age. Did the world discover the secret of his success in writing his name upon the imperishable tablets of its history? Perhaps so, but it can be told in one word—he was great because he was just—not absolutely just, but falling short of the perfect ideal only by reason of the limitations of his human nature. He was so permeated and dominated by the idea of justice that there was no room for littleness in his nature and so he lived to do his perfect work. Living as we do in a republic, the ideal government in which, theoretically at least, the people rule, this quality of justice is the most essential one to be considered in the selection of our public officials. No man should be placed in a position of responsibility who is manifestly unjust or small in his nature. There is not room for justice in the composition of the man who is capable of jealousy and its kindred, or who can see but one side of a question. And as the stream cannot rise higher than its source, the government by the people can be only a success when the people are inspired more by considerations of justice than by any other motive. And the people are not always just; their mandate may be all potent but it is not all wise and the result will be a failure however high the motive, if it is brought about by any act of injustice.

It is, therefore, a virtue supremely worth development, for in proportion as it is engrafted into the body politic, will be the output in good or bad government. For the guidance of the young upon whom will rest in the near future the burden of citizenship, no better injunction can be laid upon them than is expressed by the inspired poet when he wrote:

"Be just and fear not:
Let all the ends thou aimest at
Be thy country's, thy God's and truth's;
Then, if thou fallest, O Cromwell,
Thou fallest a blessed martyr."

THE RECALL.

The city of Los Angeles is experimenting with that new political toy recently acquired, known as the Recall. It is one of the patent medicines lately become popular, by which that large class of citizens who do not care to be burdened with the details of government, expect to bring about reforms in public affairs. The ordinary methods have to their minds become flat, stale and unprofitable;" the patient evidently needs a new specific! The vital spirit of this new scheme of government is found in the theory that the public official who does not do his duty, should give place to some one who will do it. This proposition would be indisputable if there existed some infallible test by which it could be shown in the first place that the incumbent did not perform the duties of his office as perfectly as possible, and in the second place that his successor would do better. As these facts cannot possibly be determined beyond preadventure, but must remain purely matters of opinion, there is a defect in the argument that supports the recall. It has occasionally (but rarely) hapepned that a public official has flagrantly broken a law that he had sworn to enforce and brazenly defied public opinion for what he considered to be his personal gain. On other occasions, also rare, an office holder has failed to do some specific act which he was pledged to perform, and in both of these instances the machinery of the recall could be made to do excellent service. But ordinarily no such conditions exist. The duties of an official, such as the mayor of Los Angeles for instance, are multifarious. Whether he performed them well or badly, is a matter where judgment can only be comparative, not absolute—in brief—only a matter of opinion, about which citizens may honestly differ. If there was not this difference of opinion, if the people were practically unanimous in regard to the matter, again the recall would be an excellent instrument to secure the removal of an unworthy servant.

The weakness of the recall, the danger of it, is in the undue power which it gives to the minority. Twenty-five per cent. of the voters can by petition invoke the application of the recall. The public official who can give satisfaction to 75 per cent. of the people is the exception, and to compel such an official to re-submit his case to the people to satisfy a factious minority, is the essence of injustice reduced to absurdity. Justice to the incumbent of an office is perhaps an argument which may not appeal to the virtuous citizen who insists that individuals are nothing and the community everything, but the fact ought to appeal to such well meaning citizens that the recall is just the instrument desired by the disappointed office seeker, the political rival, or the personal enemy—it enables him by energetic organized effort to "get even" with the object that he would vent his spleen upon, for the securing of names to a petition even if it were for the purpose of abolishing the ten commandments, requires only an energetic application to the task. As for the community afflicted by such a specimen of "freak" legislation, it will in the end be the principal sufferer, for the best men will refuse to accept place at the hands of a people who are ready to demonstrate their belief that a public official has no rights which the people at large need respect.

THE COLONIAL TEA.

Once a year the ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club entertain their men folks. This time the entertainment takes the form of a colonial tea to be given at the new guild hall at Third and J streets. We hear of great plans for a fine time and the 23d of February is the date set for the "High Jinks." Colonial costuming will add to the festivity of the scene and no doubt the evening will be one of great enjoyment.

WHAT TILLMAN WAS UP TO.

A Just Public Service.

Editor News:

In 1869 a land-grant act of congress was passed providing for the sale of the alternate or odd-numbered sections of a strip of land six miles wide between Roseburg and Coos Bay, Oregon, in quantities of not more than 160 acres to any one person, at a rate not to exceed $2.50 per acre, and the application of the proceeds of the sales to the building of a wagon road through the immense forests between the points named.

The State of Oregon was made the trustee of the grant, and the prospective settlers along the line of the proposed road were, of course, the intended and promised benefactories.

The commendable feature of the act was the limitation on the sale of the lands granted to not more than 160 acres to any one person. This wise and just provision of the Act, however, was shamefully ignored by the trustee, and in 1870, the legislature of Oregon transferred the entire grant to the Coos Bay Wagon Road company, a corporation. This transfer was followed by a transfer from the Wagon Road Company to the Southern Oregon Company, otherwise known as Elijah Smith, also a corporation.

Repeated efforts have been made from time to time by the Coos Bay people to have the legislature of the state undo in some manner and to some extent the grievous wrong it did them in 1870, by an act providing for the enforcement of the terms of the trust created and imposed by the land-grant act of congress in 1869. These efforts invariably proved unavailing. The "vested rights" of Elijah Smith were always more potent with the legislative conscience than the equitable rights of the people. Like efforts have been made to get the courts to interfere, with like results.

May 25, 1907, the Portland Oregonian published a comprehensive review of the situation of this and similar grants, which contained the following statement, to-wit:

"The land is now in the possession of the Southern Oregon company, a corporation of non-resident landlords headed by Elijah Smith of New York, president. Their repudiation of the terms of the grant has continued many years. Now finally more than 100 residents of the Coos Bay region have started suits to release the monopoly grip and admit settlers and others desirous of acquiring the land, as the granting acts intended they should be, and of developing the country. The would-be purchasers are joining the general movement throughout Western Oregon for enforcement of the original terms of land grants. Up to the present time the possessors of the granted land have managed to ward off other attempts to compel them to conform to those terms. They have been so successful at this that they have grown confident of their ability to repudiate perpetually the original terms of the grants and establish absolute title for themselves."

Singularly enough these residents of the Coos Bay region have an idea that the law provides a remedy for every wrong, or, if it does not, that it should. But they are "back-woods" folks and the charitably disposed will excuse their heresy in this particular. They were authoritatively advised that the lands of the grant were trust property, in the possession of whomsoever they might be; that the title to the property remains in the state still burdened with the trust upon it by the terms of the grant; that it had never been discharged of the trust. Judge Ballinger, of the United States District court had decided in 1904 that an applicant to purchase the lands was incompetent to object to non-perfomance of the conditions of the grant,—and so could not maintain a suit for enforcement of them. And, at its session of 1907, the legislature had refused to pass an act conferring upon applicants to purchase the right of the state to sue for compliance with the terms of the grant and authorizing the courts to order conveyance of title to an individual complying with such terms.

How, then, were these would-be purchasers of the grant lands to get at the matter? On the occasion of the writer's visit to the Coos Bay country, in May and June of 1907, the question was being hotly agitated and vehemently discussed on every hand. By many an appeal to congress was advocated. But loyal representatives were slow to act, if not averse to acting at all. Probably their personal interests did not lead them in that direction. It is too often the case that a public service at the hands of a public officer can be secured only when inspired by the alluring prospect of private gain.

At any rate it so happened that in the midst of this more or less excited discussion, in October, 1907, a United States senator from an Eastern state was "roaming through the West." He was made familiar with the situation regarding these grants, and unhesitatingly gave assurances of his readiness to set in motion a movement at Washington for its relief.

January 31, 1908, Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina proceeded to make good these assurances, and offered a resolution in the senate directing the attorney general to bring such suits as deemed necessary to insure compliance with the conditions of the Coos Bay and other land-grant acts of congress, or the restoration of the lands of such grants to the public domain.

The sequel appears in recent dispatches from Portland, Oregon, stating that suits have been begun there by the United States government for the recovery of 353,288 acres of land in Southern Oregon heretofore set apart for sale to actual settlers in quantities of not exceeding 160 acres to any one person, and at a price not exceeding $2.50 per acre,—the proceeds to be used in aid of the construction of wagon and railroads. The grounds of the recovery suits are non-compliance with the terms of the grants by the sale of the lands in large tracts to timber companies, lumber speculators and monopoly syndicates generally. The value of the lands involved, embracing some of the finest forests in the world, is fixed at about $15,000,000.

N. C. BURCH.

Tropico, Cal., Feb. 2, 1909.

AT SACRAMENTO.

Since the anti-Jap forces have been scattered by the big stick and the solid front presented by the entire Southern California delegation, proceedings in the legislative chambers have become rather uninteresting. This and the race track questions being disposed of, there seems to be nothing in sight than can be fairly regarded as a "Moral" issue. However, the hopper is brim full of bills of all kinds for the regulation of the universe by piece meal, there is quite an encouraging prospect yet of some interesting times in the state capitol. For instance, there is the Sunday Rest bill and the Direct Primary legislation. Then there is Dr. Haynes and his cohorts waiting to push through some initiative and referendum laws which possibly some aspiring statesman may be induced to take up seriously. Senator Bell of Pasadena, who being an Independent, was not admitted to the Republican caucus, is backing a bill the object of which is to prevent state, city, county and municipal officials of all grades and discriptions from taking part in party conventions, etc. He says he wants to put a stop to the desecration of the court houses and town halls when conventions happen to be in session. It is a commendable measure, but as it will be opposed by every man who holds a political job, or who has a friend who holds one, or who hopes to get one for himself or somebody else, it's a safe prophecy that it does not pass.

Senator Caminetti proposes to abolish the railroad commission, averring that it does not earn its money and is generally incompetent. Probably nobody thinks that this commission does or ever did earn the money paid out for its support by the state, but what does the senator want? Does he think that commissions are make to be useful? Perish the thought. This bill also will bring up in the waste basket. Assemblyman Preston wants the state constitution revised and has introduced a bill providing for submission of the question to the people; but that is one of the old reliables which bobs up serenely at every session. Assemblyman Drew has taken to preaching. He spoke in the M. E. church last Sunday and his effort was a red-hot denunciation of the Japanese. He spoke of them as a "yellow horror," and an "incubus," and indulged in other language which really did not sound well in a "Christian" pulpit. But the curious thing about his sermon was the twist that he gave to his text, which is found in Matt. xxi: 21,

"And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation."

Mr. Drew went back to the dawn of history and some distance further, and showed the dreadful effects of the mixture of blood. Then he paid his compliments to President Roosevelt and the United States government generally in a vigorous and almost unparliamentary manner. Mr. Drew has certainly got down into the Denis Kearney class, all right.

In saying that the week's proceedings had been tame, we overlooked one conspicuous exception. Senator Savage, our Savage from San Pedro, has been on the war path; if you doubt it, read this:

"Harry Chandler and Harry Andrews:

You are contemptible lying cowards of the lowest type and unworthy of the respect of any decent man.

My address at the present time is Rooms 21 and 22, Colonial Hotel, Sacramento, where I can be found at any time during the session of the legislature.

I defy you to call or send your friend.

After the adjournment of the legislature my address will be San Pedro, Los Angeles county, California.

W. H. SAVAGE."

The third challenge, technically called a "posting," is as follows:

Posted

"T. E. Gibbons, a Man Without Honor or Respect, a Notorious Falsifier and a Villainous Coward:

My address is the same as above indicated for your chums and playmates, Chandler and Andrews.

I am your superior in every instance.

W. H. SAVAGE."

Up to the present time the challenges have not been accepted. The bill permitting the consolidation of Los Angeles and San Pedro, against which the doughty senator had unlimbered all his batteries, passed the assembly on Tuesday, almost unanimously. The doughty Savage has succeeded in holding it up in the senate for the present.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

February, 21st, 1909.

(Copyright, 1908, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Stephen the First Christian Martyr. —Acts vi:1 to viii:3.

Golden Text.—They stoned Stephen calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. Acts vii:59.

Study Acts vi:8-15; vii:54 to viii:3.

Verse 8.—Who was Stephen?

In view of present day distinctions, would you call Stephen a layman or a clergyman?

Why is it not a crime against the gospel, that the preaching of the gospel is so professionalized, that our pulpits today in the towns and cities, are practically closed to the laymen of the church, so that even men like Stephen, have to "keep silent" in our church pulpits? (This question is to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

What was the secret of Stephen's power as a preacher, and to what extent may every layman become like him?

Verse 9.—When in a community of thoughtful men, who oppose the gospel, can its claims be established better by debate than by ordinary preaching or declamation?

Verse 10.—If you defeat an opposer in a debate, that is not likely to convert him to Christianity; unless he is a sincere seeker after truth, but is it likely to convert the hearers?

Verses 11-13.—What effect did Stephen's victory have upon his opponents, and what effect did it probably have upon the audience?

Is there any necessary moral value in mere opinion, and will men ever be condemned because of wrong doctrines; i. e. wrong opinions?

When a man with right views of truth, gets angry at the man with wrong views, and does mean things to him, that the latter takes with gentleness; which is likely to be the better man of the two?

Why is it that men who profess religion, can act so like devils, when new truth is presented to them as in this case?

Verse 14.—Can a man's word in a religious dispute, be depended upon, on a matter of fact, if he is untrue to his conscience and to God?

How is it that unrighteous men will fight for their false religious creeds, and shrink from no sort of rascality to accomplish their purpose?

Can you give any other reason than their unrighteousness, or assign to any other principle, the hatred of these men for so lovely a character as Stephen?

Verse 15.—Did the fact that Stephen looked like an angel, make his persecutors love him, or hate him, more?

Chap. 7, Verse 54. — What is it which cuts wrong doers to the heart more than anything else?

If these rulers had been innocent of the charge Stephen brought against them, would they have been cut to the heart as they were?

Verse 55.—What do you understand by Stephen being full of the Holy Spirit?

What did Stephen see when he looked up into heaven?

Would the onlookers have probably seen the same things, as Stephen, if they had looked up?

Verse 56-57.—Did they believe Stephen's testimony as to what he saw?

Do cold professors of religion as a rule, have any confidence in the experiences of those who walk and talk with God?

Verse 58.—How would these people justify themselves, for committing this great crime?

What was the method of stoning a victim to death?

Verses 59-60.—Does the spirit sleep at death, or go into a state of conscious presence with God?

By what power can a man love or forgive his murderers?

Chap. 8, Verses 1-3.—What was the measure of Saul's sin in the stoning of Stephen?

What were the chief results of the stoning of Stephen?

The Gospel in Samaria.—Acts viii:4-25.

Generally, after the rains this road is in very poor condition for a week or so, but this time the new road overseer is taking the matter in hand and is putting it in first-class shape. Other roads in Tropico are receiving attention in the way of improvements, and they are beginning to look a little respectable.

A happy crowd of young people from this place enjoyed a tramp to Sycamore canyon, Sunday afternoon. Master Eugene greeted the guests with a cheery "Good-bye, come again," while Miss Marjorie greeted them with a smiling, "Please call again." As the guests departed the young host and hostess were heard to say "Good afternoon, delighted to have you present."

The little people all declared they had the best time ever and of all the parties Eugene and Marjorie had tendered their friends the topsy turvy party was the merriest and happiest ever.

TROPICO METHODIST NOTES.

By the Pastor.

Last Sunday was a very successful day in every department and service of this church. Our Sunday school was up to about its normal condition. The recent rains have interfered with the attendance somewhat, but last Sunday the attendance was good. New scholars were reported. There was a large attendance at the morning preaching service at 11 o'clock. At the Epworth League service in the evening five new members were initiated according to the ritual form and two persons united with the church after the evening sermon. Thus the church is building rapidly and steadily and, we believe, has a bright future.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society held a profitable meeting in the church parlors, last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Bodkin and Mrs. Jones of Los Angeles and Mrs. McKoon of Glendale were present and gave talks of the missionary work in general. Mrs. Bodkin arranged to come out and hold a meeting in teh near future in the interest of the work.

The choir of this church is being reorganized and it is expected that in the near future the regular morning and evening anthems will be in progress. The members and pastor are expecting great things from the new choir.

TROPICO GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES.

Washington's birthday was appropriately celebrated at the Tropico Grammar school yesterday. In each of the several rooms a pleasing program was rendered by the pupils. In the eighth grade, Mrs. Martha McClure, teacher, a program consisting of patriotic songs, instrumental music and a beautiful flag drill in which the members of the class participated. At the conclusion of the various programs light refreshments consisting of tea and sandwiches were served in the office by the girls of the eighth grade, who were dressed in the Colonial style. This room was brilliantly arrayed with American flags and bunting while the tables were trimmed with the national colors. Each of the guests partaking of refreshments were presented with a dainty little souvenir in the form of a hatchet. On the outside of these favors were the words "Feb. 22, 1909. Eighth Grade Girls, Hostesses." On the inside of these little hatchets was printed the program. The blackboards of the eighth grade were decorated with hatchets and pictures of Washington, drawn by the pupils. The affair was attended by a large number of the parents and other visitors and the afternoon proved very enjoyable.

The boys' baseball team of this school will cross bats with the team representing the Sixth street school of Glendale one day next week. There is considerable rivalry between these two teams and a good game is expected.

Miss Violet Turner, formerly of the Los Angeles schools, entered the eighth grade this week.

SOME INCORPORATION TALK.

Several of the leading residents and business men of this place went to Los Angeles several days ago for the purpose of inquiring into the steps which would have to be taken before it would be possible for Tropico to be incorporated as a city of the sixth class.

The talk of incorporation seems to be growing and in nearly every instance the people appear to be in favor of transforming this little country town—village, we might say, into a thriving little city. It is generally believed that the only way that the necessary and desired improvements can be secured for this community is by incorporation. That the street improvements in Glendale, and in fact any incorporated community, are far ahead of those of Tropico, is generally acknowledged, and that incorporation brings improvements cannot be denied.

Those who are advocating incorporation claim that the only way that Tropico will be able to retain its name will be by becoming a city. Several times the name of this place has been changed. Years ago this community used to be known as Mason; later it was called Glendale. It went by the name of Glendale for a long time. The Southern Pacific company was responsible for it being named Tropico. While going under the name of Glendale the people were dissatisfied, and the Southern Pacific company learning this told the people that if they would erect a station at this place, it would hereafter be known as Tropico. The people got their heads together, and as a result, a station was built—the one that is still standing. That is how Tropico got its name, and the people, knowing how hard the earlier settlers at this place worked to get the name, seem reluctant at letting it go—hence all this incorporation talk.

The people also fear that they will lose the postoffice at this place. In a letter recently published in this paper, Postmaster Flint of Los Angeles stated that no effort would be made to remove the office from this place, even though the free delivery was established. At the present time practically all of Tropico is covered by either this free delivery from Glendale or the rural route from Los Angeles or Garvanza. The people do not think that an attempt will be made to take the office away from Tropico by the postal authorities, but fear that when these free delivery routes are established thoroughly and distribute mail to every one within their territory, there will not be sufficient patronage afforded the Tropico office to warrant its continuation. If the local office is then kept running those who do run it will be doing so for the love of the game, and not for the living they are getting out of it. If the Tropico postoffice is discontinued it will be closed in this way, then the name of our pretty little burg will be blotted from the map. This is another reason why this incorporation talk is getting such a hold on the people. The more enthusiastic residents have taken up as a cry "Let incorporation come—and that soon."
